There's no stopping the beautiful memories you will capture in Midcoast Maine. Whether it's our history, beautiful sunrises and sunsets over the sea, adventures on water and land, thousands of miles of rocky coastline, lighthouses, charming villages, freshly caught seafood, brilliant foliage, the mountains or winter adventures, we welcome you to the area. Take time to breathe in the fresh air, while creating joyful memories.

Our History

In the 1620's, a number of English settlements were established along the coast of Maine, but most failed. As Maine entered the 18th century, only a half dozen European settlements had survived. Loyalist and Patriot forces contended for Maine's territory during the American Revolution. During the War of 1812, the largely-undefended eastern region of Maine was occupied by British forces, but returned to the United States following failed British offensives on the northern border, mid-Atlantic and south which produced a peace treaty that was to include dedicated land on the Michigan peninsula for Native American people.

The Damariscotta-Newcastle region has a rich history that includes all of the chapters you'd expect - boatbuilding, military history and a maritime culture that reads like a novel. The midcoast's Twin Villages of Damariscotta/ Damariscotta Mills and Newcastle are uniquely positioned along the banks of the Damariscotta River, which once hosted a variety of boatbuilding operations beginning in the mid 1700's. As King George of England reserved the great tall white pines of Maine for the Royal Navy's ship masts, an industry began, which included boatbuilding, sawmills, lumberyards, blacksmith, and rigging shops. Schooners, brigs and sailing ships were built for New England merchants and were widely acclaimed for their speed and strength. The area produced more vessels than any other state in the nation at that time, and those vessels were sailed around the world.

History buffs will feel right at home in the area, and have a number of sites to explore that reach back hundreds of years. Some notable sights include the Colonial Pemaquid Historic site, which consists of seventeenth-century Fort William Henry and eighteen-century Fort Frederick. Fort William Henry was the largest of its kind in New England when originally built in 1692 by the colony of Massachusetts. The original structure was destroyed in 1696 by New France in the Siege of Pemaquid, but was reconstructed in 1908. The Friends of Colonial Pemaguid share many historical re-enactments from musket demonstrations, pirate strikes to musical entertainment from Maine St. Andrews Pipes and Drums at the historic site. Visit Whaleback, an 11-acre property in Damariscotta owned by the Maine Bureau of Parks and Lands and operated cooperatively with Coastal Rivers. The site once contained a massive oyster shell heap or midden formed over a period of more than 1,000 years by Native Americans. The shells were processed for chicken feed in the late 1800's, leaving behind just a fraction of the original mounds. Interpretive storyboards relate the history of the middens. their accumulation and destruction, and also share stories of the Upper Damariscotta River.

Visit Castle Tucker in Wiscasset, an historic, ornate mansion with tours, offering insight into the life of its 19th-century owner, a sea captain. Other sites to see include Fort Edgecomb Historic site in Edgecomb, the Thompson Ice House in South Bristol, and the Maine Maritime Museum in Bath.

SPRING AHEAD

Spring is an exciting time in Maine as the days stay lighter a bit longer and everything begins to show signs of rebirth. Lilacs, forsythia and apple trees come into bloom, and the common loon, the beautiful waterbird with the haunting call, returns to the lakes and ponds to nest along the shore. Sea turtles commune on logs to catch the warm rays of the sun, and ospreys can be seen returning to their large nests built on top of pilings to incubate their eggs.

As the ground begins to thaw, locals disch their winter beets and head out to

As the ground begins to thaw, locals ditch their winter boots and head out to hike Midcoast Maine's many state parks and preserves or kayak the area's recreational spots.

Alewives begin running in May. These sea-run fish, which are members of the herring family, spend most of their lives at sea but return each May and June to spawn in Damariscotta Lake. The fish ladder in Damariscotta Mills, which was originally built in 1807, has recently been restored and is the central focus, providing an up close and personal viewing of the alewives as they work their way up the ladder, migrating from sea to lake.

In late May, as you are driving the high-ways, back country roads, or shoreline in Maine, look for the beautiful carpet of purple, pink and white lupines in fields, or on the side of the road. If you miss these perennials, take a drive to Northern Point Road in Round Pond to the Lupine field to experience this wonderous mix of colors.

Spring is a bit of a tease but an exciting time in Maine, knowing that summer is right around the corner.

SUMMER SPECTACULAR

Summer in Maine is like a smorgas-bord—so much to take in and enjoy that you may not know where to start. From kayaking, river cruises, whale watching, camping, hiking, birding, lake swimming, shelling, exploring one of Maine's many islands, to enjoying a round of golf at Wawenock Golf Club in Walpole, the options are endless. For a unique Maine experience, hop aboard the Bennie Alice at Pier 6 in Boothbay and enjoy a narrated scenic cruise while you take in Maine's breathtaking coastline. You'll arrive at Cabbage Island where you will enjoy a traditional DownEast clambake.

For the adventurous at heart, enjoy a day sea kayaking along Maine's rocky scenic coast or on the lakes. Midcoast Kayak on Main Street in Damariscotta and Maine Kayak in New Harbor offer half day, full day and multi-island overnight camping experiences to make your adventure memorable.

Pemaquid Beach Park is a very special beach in New Harbor. This beautiful white crescent-shaped beach with soft white sand, gentle waves and the clearest water possible will treat you to a relaxing and fun day. The beach is pristine and facilities are clean. There is a place to rent chairs and beach toys. The new pavilion and boardwalk with a snack bar offers a delicious lineup of food ranging from salads and fish tacos to burgers and fries. A Beachcombers Rest and Nature Center features beach plants and animals to view through a microscope, as well as a touch tank. You won't want to miss Pemaquid

Beach Park. There's plenty of parking.

Bristol's rich history lends itself to a multitude of events on the Pemaquid Peninsula. The annual Olde Bristol Days celebration each August on the Old Fort Grounds at Colonial Pemaquid draws the community and visitors together with a weekend filled with a parade, lobster boat racing, vintage car shows, a chicken barbecue dinner, fireworks, and so much more. For an unforgettable experience, attend the New England's Auto Auction at Owl's Head Transportation Museum on August 26.

FALL LEAF PEEPING of thousands of visitors from around the world arrive for a fun-filled family

As the weather begins to cool down, fall arrives bringing the smells of burning wood, sounds of crunching leaves. tastes of crisp apples and sweet cider, and brilliant yellows, oranges and reds paint the fall landscape in Midcoast Maine.

As the days become shorter and temperatures drop, winter in Maine becomes a very special place. What's not to love about curling up in front of a warm fire enjoying a cup of hot cocoa or venturing outdoors after a recent snowfall to make snow angels or build a snowman? And if you're really lucky, you may catch sight of a Barred weekend full of games and adventure, street performers, a parade, delicious food, music and a regatta in hollowed out pumpkins, motorized or with paddles. A memorable weekend of just good old-fashioned fun.

For a bit of shopping adventure, make sure your trip will include the first Saturday of November for our annual Early Bird sale. Shopping starts at some businesses at 6 am and other businesses offer discounts all day long. If you wear your PJs, extra discounts are extended. It's a great way to kick off the holiday season while supporting local business-

The Wiscasset, Waterville & Farmington Railway Museum is a great place to celebrate autumn in the Sheepscot Valley at its annual fall festival. Enjoy steam train rides, Model T railcar rides, a pumpkin patch, children's games, live music and hayrides.

WINTER WONDERI AND

peacefulness of winter. For the young at heart, head out to one of Maine's dozen ski areas, or 14,000 miles of groomed trails for snowmobiling, preserves for snowshoeing and lakes and ponds for ice fishing.

Thanksgiving weekend, the Twin Villages of Damariscotta and Newcastle come alive with the start of the holiday season. The sidewalks are lined with decorated Christmas trees, storefronts become magical holiday scenes filled with lights, and Santa makes his first appearance during the Villages of Light parade. A hop, skip and a jump away is New England's biggest and brightest light display at the Maine Botanical Gardens in Boothbay for Gardens Aglow. Bundle up and get ready to get in the holiday spirit as you walk through 14 acres of gardens lit with 750,000 LED lights that may be in the shape of flowers, animals, or mushrooms.

The traditional ice harvest at the Thompson Ice House in South Bristol is a fun-filled event for all ages. The free event attracts crowds every February to participate or watch as a crew of volunteers cut large blocks of ice from Thompson Pond using antique tools in much the same way it has been done since 1826. Whether its time spent indoors or outdoors on an adventure, Maine is a wonderful place for a relaxing winter getaway.

The Damariscotta River in Midcoast Maine is quickly earning the reputation as the "Napa Valley of Oysters."

Thousands of years ago, shell heaps made up mostly of oyster shells lined the banks of the Damariscotta River (old Abenaki for "river of many fishes") deposited there by Native Americans.

These oyster shell heaps tell a story about how the aboriginal people feasted on this delicacy.

The European settlers in the 1700s built mills, dams and shipyards, which led to erosion along the banks of the river and waste, which eventually led to the disappearance of the oyster.

Today, the 19-mile long tidal river offers undeniable beauty in addition to its edible bounty, providing a continual pulse within the area. More than 80 percent of Maine oysters are farmed on the river, which boasts the perfect climate for harvesting oysters. The waters are cleaner and warmer with the right level of salinity and a fresh water mix. Commercial oyster growing and the prolific spawning have brought back the wild American oyster to perfection.

You too can become a connoisseur of oysters, which are offered at most restaurants in the region. For a unique experience, take a sunset river cruise up the Damariscotta River where you will enjoy oysters as you cruise past oyster farms, witness seals lounging on boulders, and catch the majestic site of an eagle soaring overhead. If a river cruise isn't your thing, take a drive to Scully's Sea Products oyster farm on River Road where you can grab several varieties of local oysters, clams, lobsters, shucking tools, gifts, sauces, and small selection of frozen prepared foods.

The Hub, Market & Oysteria, at Pemaquid Oyster Company located at 1005 Bristol Road on Route 130 is a fun place to dine al fresco at their outdoor restaurant where you will enjoy delicious oysters, sea-cuterie plates and summer beverages or shop their extensive seafood market for a variety of goodies to take home and cook.

Simmons Seafood Market in Damariscotta has several varieties of oysters to take home and enjoy in addition to their extensive seafood offering.

Maine has more than 65 lighthouses, which have become icons of coastal Maine, luring tens of thousands of visitors to the state each year. The midcoast area alone has 21 lighthouses adorning its coastline. Today, most lighthouses serve an aesthetic purpose versus a practical one, however, the one thing that bridges history are the stories of shipwrecks, survival, and secrets hidden inside each one.

The Pemaquid Point Lighthouse, commissioned by John Quincy Adams in 1827, has the Fisherman's Museum on the first floor in the Keeper's House. It has its own piece of history at the end of the peninsula. Located on the west side of the entrance to Muscongus Bay, its pyramidal tower stands 79 feet above sea level with a light that is visible for 14 nautical miles. Built in 1835 and automated in 1934, the Lighthouse received its first fourth-order Fresnel lens in 1956. The lighthouse was the first in Maine to be automated, rather than being hosted by a keeper in 1934. Visitor's can climb the winding stairwell to the top of the historic Point Lighthouse.

Each year the United States Coast Guard, the Maine Office of Tourism and the American Lighthouse Foundation attract between 15,000 to 18,000 visitors annually, offering the general public a unique opportunity to climb and learn about more than two dozen historic Maine lights. The 2023 Maine Open Lighthouse Day is September 9, 2023 from 9:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m. The lighthouses listed below can be easily visited from the midcoast area. Check out the website for a complete listing of lighthouses that are a part of the 2023 Open Lighthouse day at www.lighthousefoundation.org.

Getting Down on the Farm

aine residents and visitors have more than 140 farmers' markets to explore across the state, which have become an economic and social boom to Maine communities. Each farmer's market has a unique personality, but all sell locally grown produce, dairy, meats, seafood, baked goods, soaps and scents, flowers and plants. During the season, May through October, make sure you stop in the Damariscotta Farmers Market on Fridays from 9 am to noon located at 3 Roundtop Lane in Damariscotta. But don't make that your only farm stop - Midcoast Maine is experiencing a resurgence of local farms, where you can shop their markets of fresh and prepared foods, or sit outdoors picnic table style to enjoy a platter of freshly shucked oysters, craft wines and beers, and a variety of small plates of farm-to-table or sea-to-table deliciousness.

Stop in the Broad Arrow Farm Market & Butcher and the Rooting Pig Charcuterie Bar in Bristol for a true gastronomical experience. Shop their market, enjoy a beverage at their outdoor bar, or attend one of their special events.

If you want to grab some fresh local, organic and natural goods, Rising Tide COOP in Damariscotta has a wonderful variety and you do not need to be a member to shop there. The Wanderwood Farm in Nobleboro and The Morris Farm Trust in Wiscasset have wonderful farm stands of veggies, eggs and fresh cut flowers to take home and enjoy. And if you want to experience a wonderful variety of locally-grown organic microgreens, gourmet mushrooms, eggs, honey and other seasonal produce delivered to your doorstep, reach out to Cozy Cove Microbloomery in Bristol.

Veggies to Table is a local farm with a different approach. They grow top-quality organic produce and flowers to donate to local folks experiencing hunger and needing joy, create lasting community connections through its volunteer program, and provide education around healthy food and sustainable living.

Mainers know how to farm! Make sure you experience a variety of farms when visiting Midcoast Maine Eating well in the region is an easy task, as our amazing access to seafood is supplemented with farm raised and cultivated produce, dairy and meat from a wide range of local farms.

Whether you're looking for the best lobster roll, fried clams or Maine shrimp, you'll be delighted with the fare you find in our region.

The Damariscotta River is home to the oysters that bear its name, internationally-known delicacy at restaurants far and wide. While menus abound with local lobster. mussels, clams, and a wide variety of fish, our restaurants have more than just succulent seafood to tempt the palate. Award-winning chefs prepare dishes from simple burgers and tasty pizzas to elegant dining experiences. Several restaurants feature locally grown produce, farm artisan products, and craft beverages, so come hungry!

Here's the history on the old Information Bureau.

It began 88 years ago in the summer of 1935on a small grassy parcel of land left over from the rerouting of Route One. Visionary Grevis Melville had a small brick building constructed at the intersection that is known todayas Main and Vine street. The building, which was called the Information Bureau, became a major hub and welcoming center for visitors to the region. In the first couple of years, it was jointly staffed by the Board of Trade (a group formed in 1933 consisting of 27 businessmen in the Twin Villages of Damariscotta-Newcastle) and the Information Bureau staff and volunteers. In its 50th year in July of 1985, the Information Bureau welcomed its 1,000,000th visitor to the region.

On May 15,1986, the Board of Trade changed its name to the Damariscotta Region Chamber of Commerce, where it supported more than 200 businesses in the community.

Together, the Information Bureau and the Damariscotta Region Chamber of Commerce have a combined 174 years of joined forces with a goal of ensuring the survival of the historic Information Bureau and provide a permanent home to the Chamber. The Damariscotta Region Chamber & Information Bureau had a vision that is finally a reality.

Each year, our region welcomes people from all over the world who come for a visit. Some decide to make Midcoast Maine their home after learning all this area has to offer. After all, the Damariscotta Region is a wonderful place to work, live, raise a family, relax, and enjoy the captivating nature all around us.

The restored and expanded building is ready for the 2023 summer season. The service. In 2020, these two organizations history wall shares centuries worth of rich stories about this region and the people who have lived here. A conference room is available to members of the community who may need space for small community meetings, to take online classes, find job openings or internships for our youth looking to experience work opportunities in the community. In the future, the outdoor area will become a place for visitors to sit on a bench and enjoy a coffee or park their bikes before taking a stroll into town to shop. Stop in and say hello and take information about places to stay, eat, shop, and explore. Come and find out what makes our region so special.

The list of famous artists who have been drawn to the Maine coast is long and it's no wonder. Most people who visit once, begin planning their next visit before they leave, and sometimes the return is permanent! The area is beautiful in all seasons and the drama of our coastal landscape strikes the artists in all of us. The Damariscotta-Newcastle area is filled with several art galleries and creative sources to appreciate art and even inspire yourself. Several artist-owned galleries and antique shops are located on Bristol Road, just a short distance away from the village.

The downtown area features several traditional fine art galleries and shops.

Demariscotta Police Crief, Jason Warlick, gives Farnsy athumbs upl. Available at Sherman's Book Shops, Maine Authors Publishing, and the Damariscotta Region Chamber of Commerce

Gifts at 136 has original art and crafts from more than 75 Maine artists, the Sarah Lynn Richards Gallery showcases watercolor paintings of horses and Maine wildlife, The Peace Gallery offers classes and events and a unique gallery showcasing the creative works of fellow veterans from far and wide, and Sheepscot River Pottery creates unique and one of a kind pieces. This is just a sprinkling of what's available in the area.

Plan a drive to the peninsula to visit the Pemaquid Lighthouse and several stops along the way to experience Maine art. The Pemaquid Craft Co-op has a variety of displays from 60 crafters. You'll have a hard time deciding what treasure to take home. Your next stop will be the Saltwater Artists Gallery which showcases up to 25 artists exhibiting paintings, pastels, prints, photography as well as 3-D work including sculptures, pottery, woodturning jewelry. As you enter through the guard station facing the beautiful Pemaquid Lighthouse, turn to your right and make sure you stop in the Pemaquid Art Gallery, which has a wonderful variety of original artwork from local artists in a variety of mediums. Once you take in the dramatic views of the Atlantic Ocean and breathe in the salt air, pack up your Maine art treasures and treat yourself to a delicious ice cream treat from Harbor Ice Cream to celebrate a shopping trip well done!

In addition to our art galleries and shops, entertainment abounds in this area and we are lucky to have diverse and ever-changing access to many cultural events, including several choral and musical ensembles, and a wide variety of local bands and summer concerts on the lawn. The historic Lincoln Theater offers movies, live performances and live simulcast concert, opera and film showings all year long, featuring the Metropolitan opera, world-renowned ballet companies like the Bolshoi and New York City Ballet and the Royal Theater. The Waldo Theatre in Waldoboro is a beautifully restored 1936 Theatre connecting arts & Culture with our community through concerts, live performances and movies.

Bibliophiles will be pleased to find a bookshop with a bustling cafe and the Skidompha Library right on Main Street. Don't miss Skidompha's Secondhand Book Shop for even more take-home treasures.
